INJURED LABRADOR READY FOR ADOPTION FROM THE PIMA ANIMAL CARE CENTER

November 24, 2009 - Tucson AZ: In August we shared the story of the chocolate Labrador found in the vicinity of Kinney Road and Ajo Highway. The female lab, who was found suffering from an old untreated eye injury, had also sustained a fresh wound to her side from an arrow.

Nezbah, a Navajo word meaning 'woman in battle', was treated at the Pima Animal Care Center for her injuries and began her road to recovery. While law enforcement investigated the acts of cruelty taken against her thereby extending her stay at the Center, she maintained an exceptionally happy attitude throughout her treatment endearing her to Center staff.

Sadly, Nezbah has lost the use of her right eye. A recent consultation with Dr. Meredith of Southern Arizona Vet Specialty Center confirmed the assessment of the long term injury. Although opaque in color, the eye is clinically stable and requires no further treatment at this time.

With this good news, Nezbah will be made available for adoption at 12:00 noon this Friday, November 27, 2009, at the Pima Animal Care Center. The Center is located at 4000 N. Silverbell Road.

A special adoption rate of $25 on all animals (plus license for adult dogs) is currently available. The Center is open for adoptions, redemptions, animal intake and licensing services Monday through Friday Noon until 7pm and Saturdays and Sundays from 10am until 5pm. Telephone licensing is available Monday through Saturday 8am to 5pm.
